LOSS OF VOICE
After Acute Bronchitis
CURED BY USING
AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

LADIES' LATEST STYLE VISITING CARDS AT the INDEX-TRIBUNE OFFICE.

THE SOCIABLE GAME.

BOSTON SCCIETY'S RADICAL INNOVATIONS AT POKER.

Decks of Sixty Cards and "Ringdoodles" Among the New Features—Sympathy For Losers and Luncheon With "A Wee Nip" For All—The Little Kitty.

Could the late Minister Schenck, who gave to the world during his diplomatic life a treatise on the fascinating American game, attend a modern poker party he would certainly declare that the world has moved backward, in one respect at least.

Very few people outside certain circles of the Back Bay have any conception of the extent to which poker playing is carried in that section. The whole locality is divided into "sets," and it is customary for each one to hold a session at his or her house nearly every night in the week.

The usual hour for beginning play is 8 o'clock, and it is customary for the ladies to dress for the occasion, while the gentlemen not infrequently array themselves in full evening costume.

The standard limit is 10 cents, one reason for making it so small being that the conscientious shall not feel that they are gambling. It is frequently remarked by this one and that one that they have not come out for the purpose of making anything—only to have a social time. This statement appears somewhat incongruous when placed side by side with the look of satisfaction that is noticeable when a good sized jackpot is taken in.

Another feature of society poker is the great amount of sympathy expressed for the players when the cards are running badly and they have been called upon to interview the bank for the fifth or sixth time. The heaviest dealers in sympathy are those who have the largest stack of chips before them. It does not cost anything, and it is believed by the ones who peddle it ont that it will impress the others with a belief that they are real generous. But a careful observer will notice as the game progresses that the unlucky one is always raised by those who believe they have the best hands, notwithstanding the size of their stacks.

This is called poker table sympathy and is as shallow and meaningless as much of the talk heard among society people.

Generally there are three hours of play, after which the hostess asks her guests to a light repast, consisting of sardines, crackers, cheese and sweetmeats. Bottled beer is the favorite beverage, but there are instances on record where something stronger has been indulged in. A great many society people of both sexes drink rum punch, lemonade dashed with whisky and plain gin.

The usual time devoted to refreshments is 15 minutes, as all are anxious to get at the cards again.

Now the peculiar features of society poker, which are contrary to the "formula" presented by the lamented Schenck, are novel and numerous, and while they are readily accepted by nine-tenths of those who play just for the fun of the thing, yet the other tenth is unalterably opposed to them, but, acting in accordance with the principle that the majority should rule, all efforts to have the game rid of them have been abortive.

The most pain that the small minority experiences in playing the evoluted game is when the 60 card decks are brought in. It frequently happens that seven and eight players are present at a sitting, and when everybody "stays" the cards fall short, which necessitates gathering up the "dead wood" and filling out the hands from it. There is a well grounded superstition that these discards have been robbed of everything of value, and that to draw from them is equivalent to throwing the chips into a redhot stove. To in a measure meet these exigencies 11 and 12 spot cards have been added, making the pack consist of 60 cards instead of 52. Those who have been accustomed to play at the clubs, where the game still retains all its Schenckian purity, have a chill when they find these obtrusive cards are to confront them.

Another innovation is the "ringdoodle." Where the word originated is a mystery fully as deep as the practice it designates.

A ringdoodle is declared when a hand has been called and fours are shown. Then follows a round of jack pots, the holder of the winning hand starting them. Blue chips are put up to correspond with the number of players. Of course this makes a heavy drain on the stacks which have been lowered through the evening by ill luck, and if the owner of one of these happens to be an opponent of the ringdoodle, he goes off on a long dissertation on how the game was once played. Of course a round of jack pots would be equivalent to a ringdoodle, but it comes easier to some players to pay on the installment plan.

It has now become the custom to make a discount of one red chip for every jack pot. Although this is a pretty heavy rake off, yet it all comes back to the players just before the wind up for the evening.

When time has crept on toward midnight, the keeper of the kitty announces that a round of consolation jacks will be played. The chips are divided into a number of piles corresponding with the number of players, and the extras are placed in the center of the table with the individual contributions.

When society plays poker, there is always a big supply of cards on hand. If luck runs badly for a player a new pack is demanded, but it is rarely fortune changes her plans. She names the unfortunate ones before the game starts, and no form of device will bring about an alteration in her programme.—Boston Herald.

A strenuous soul hates cheap success. It is the ardor of the assailant that makes the vigor of the defendant.—Emerson.

FAMOUS POLITICAL PHRASE.

Used In Different Forms by Lincoln, Theodore Parker and Webster.

In a letter headed "Not Lincoln's Own Words," a correspondent points out that the words "government of the people, by the people, for the people," in the famous Gettysburg address were not original with Lincoln. He attempts to further show that they were original with Henry Wilson, and were quoted by Lincoln from a letter written in 1860 by Wilson to certain persons in Boston.

In a speech delivered at the New England antislavery convention, Boston, May 29, 1850, by Theodore Parker, may be found the expression "a government of all the people, by all the people, for all the people," the exact language, with the exception of one word, of that ascribed to Wilson and employed by Lincoln. But still further back had the same idea been expressed in substantially the same way by Daniel Webster in one of his most splendid oratorical efforts, whose every phrase was familiar to all patriotic Americans long before Parker uttered his speech or Wilson wrote his letter. In his second speech on Foot's resolution, Jan. 26, 1830, Webster used these words, "The people's government, made for the people, made by the people and answerable to the people."

The phrase discussed belongs no more to Wilson than to Lincoln. The words can no more be said to have been "quoted" by Lincoln from Wilson than from Parker or Webster. Lincoln was familiar with the writings and speeches of Parker. He had probably never seen this particular letter of Wilson's. That his language should be exactly the same as that of the latter was a coincidence, but probably nothing more. The phrase was merely the expression, in the simplest, most direct language, of the glorious yet popular and familiar idea of the constitution and object of our form of government. The expression cannot be ascribed to any one man. Lincoln does not give the statement as a positive declaration—as a new coined phrase intended to add to his laurels as a public speaker, but uses the words as descriptive of our government in uttering the resolve that it "shall not perish from the earth."

That some words of the speech had been said before does not detract from the beauty or grandeur of Lincoln's address as a whole. His speech, which has been declared to be the greatest in the records of oratory of our own or any other country, was so not because it was the labored and polished effort of a practiced orator, but because of the greatness of the man, as a man, who uttered it.—Washington Star.

SELLING A MINE.

A Western Man's Great Luck In Disposing of His Property.

"It is the easiest thing on earth to sell a mine in London for almost any price, provided you have anything to show an expert," said Major Frank McLaughlin. "There is also a right way and a wrong way to go about it. Some time ago I went to London to negotiate the sale of some mining property. Of course, the first thing I had to do was to let capital know what I was there for. Then, when inquiries commenced, I simply said: 'Gentlemen, I have mining property to sell. If you mean business and want to buy, send your expert out to examine the property and make a report on it. You will know then what you are buying.'

"A company was organized. The expert examined the property and reported favorably, and a meeting was held to discuss terms.

"'Now, major,' said the spokesman, 'we have found that the property may be worth something. What is your price?'

"'Two hundred and fifty thousand,' said I.

"'That is more than we expected to pay. We expected to pay about 200,000. There is not much difference between 200,000 and 250,000. If you will drop the 50,000 we will take it.'

"I expected to get about $100,000 for the property, so with a show of reluctancy I agreed to accept their offer. When the papers were made out, I was surprised to learn that they had been talking about pounds and I about dollars, but I was very careful not to let my surprise leak, and that is the way I got $1,000,000 for the mine. Great people to do business with."—San Francisco Post.

Cocoanuts In Florida.

Quite a number of tropical nuts have recently been introduced into cultivation in this country. Already on the east coast of Florida are growing 250,000 cocoanut trees, 42,000 being in one plantation. It is believed that the first trees of this kind in that state sprouted from nuts brought from Central America and the West Indies by the gulf stream. At Key West and about some of the old forts cocoanuts were planted at an early day, as certain ancient trees now standing bear witness. In 1877 a bark freighted with cocoanuts was caught in a storm off the coast of Florida and beached near Lake Worth. Several thousands of the nuts were saved and planted, the satisfactory growth of the seedlings giving an impetus to cultivation.—New York World.

The Cable Code.

One of the curiosities of the cable code method of sending information is shown in a recent message announcing the loss by fire of a ship at sea. The whole message was conveyed in three words of Scott's cable code: "Smouldered; hurrah; hallelujah!" "Smouldered" stands for "the ship has been destroyed by fire," "hurrah" for "crew saved by boats" and "hallelujah" for "all hands saved—inform wives and sweethearts."—New York Tribune.

It is said that the blind never dream of visible objects, and a mute has been observed when dreaming to carry on a conversation by means of his fingers or in writing.

INDEX-TRIBUNE

SONOMA, NOVEMBER 23, 1895.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR

THE St. Helena Sentinel, after a suspension of several months is again upon our exchange table. Our contemporary has passed through many vicissitudes since it first saw the light of day about a year ago. Its former publisher, editor Vallandigham, was beset on all sides by dunning creditors, the newspaper plant was attached, the red flag of the Sheriff fluttered in front of the office and the material passed into other hands. Yet the Sentinel is still on duty with guardsmen Lewis & Fairchild pacing the editorial beat of the office with sharp and pungent pens.

AN exchange asks: "When the breezy blooming bloomers are the universal go, how will tailors press the creases in them I should like to know? When the baby's head is nodding and it wants to take a nap, how can mamma loll her darling in a bifurcated lap? How can Bridget shoo the chickens with no skirts to flop and fling, when the creatures go a grubbing in the garden in the spring? But the question most annoying that our speculations catch: Can she vie with men in action when she goes to strike a match?"

THE first number of the Ukiah Herald has been received at this office. We congratulate editor Herzinger on the prosperous appearance of the Herald, which is not only ably edited but is withal a credit to the printer's art.

Attention.

A good recommendation for Simmons Liver Regulator is, that it is purely vegetable and strongly tonic. Then too, it is better than pills because easier to take in liquid or powder and with no griping, while the relief from Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia is quick and sure. "I find Simmons' Liver Regulator a very safe and valuable family medicine."—Rev. J. M. Rollins, Fairfield, Va.

COUNTY NEWS.

GLEANED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

I. DeTurk of Santa Rosa will manufacture between 15,000 and 20,000 gallons of sherry wine the present month.

Victor Ottmer committed suicide near Healdsburg last Sunday by shooting himself in the head. The cause was ill health.

Next Monday is the last day in which to pay taxes. If allowed to become delinquent 15 per cent. will be added to the amount.

Wesley Boyes, formerly of Santa Rosa, was caught in the machinery of a flour mill at Davenport, Washington, one day last week, and so badly injured that he died Sunday.

Two boys named Prows, aged respectively 10 and 12 years, ran away from their home in Healdsburg one day this week.

Judge Dougherty filed his opinion Saturday in the mandamas proceedings brought by F. L. Burk, principal of the Santa Rosa High School, against Superintendent of Schools Davis. The Judge decided the case in favor of Prof. Burk, and Superintendent Davis was ordered to draw a requisition on the County Auditor in Burk's favor for the salary sued for.

George Conniff, who was sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment in San Quentin from this county for manslaughter, has been pardoned by the Governor. Conniff, it will be remembered, by way of a joke (?) shoved a Chinaman off a wharf at Petaluma a couple of years ago. The celestial sank to the bottom of the creek and was drowned.

A forest fire raged in the hills three miles northeast of Santa Rosa on Friday night and Saturday last. A great deal of fencing was destroyed and other damage done. The area burned over was considerable.

Jasper O'Farrell Rains, says the Republican, was arrested in Santa Rosa on Friday of last week on an indictment found against him eight years ago for a criminal assault on his step-daughter. He was first indicted in September, 1886. Afterward this indictment was set aside and the case was again submitted to the succeeding Grand Jury which found a second indictment against him. The records of the County Clerk do not show whether Rains was arrested or not, but the court, the late Judge Pressley presiding, made an order fixing his bail at $3,000. Rains disappeared and the general impression was that he was out on bond and that his bail was forfeited.

Wayne Day, who resides near Santa Rosa, but is at present employed at painting near Sonoma, met with a painful accident Sunday. He took a tumble from a bicycle on the Petaluma road, and landed in a barbed wire fence. His left hand was severely scratched, one barb penetrated so deeply into the palm of the hand that it was with difficulty extracted. The pain was so great that the young man fainted twice while the injured member was being attended to. He left on the afternoon train for Sonoma, but as he is left-handed, did not know whether the injury would prevent his working for some time or not.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

The meals to be had at the Sonoma House, now kept by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stein, are the best to be had in any hotel north of San Francisco. *

When the Chill Mists of the Morning

hang like a pall over the surface of the earth, it will be well for you before venturing into the raw vaporous air, charged, perhaps, with the seeds of malaria or provocative of rheumatic twinges, to take a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and thus shield yourself from atmospheric influences threatening to health. If you happen to get snowed, sleeted or rained upon, use the same preventive, and avoid the rheumatism or a dangerous cold. The agreeable warmth induced into the circulation by this genial stomachic, its invigorating and regulating properties commend it to all appreciative of the fact that prevention is better than cure. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness and kidney trouble, sick headache and debility.

A number of young hoodlums in this place on Sunday night last turned loose a couple of horses, which were tied to hitching posts on Broadway, while the owners were attending church. One of the animals was found a mile or two from town, but the other has not yet been recovered. The parents of these boys had better keep them home of an evening else it will only be a question of time when they will find themselves under arrest The people of this town are in no mood at the present time to stand any foolishness. See!

A pioneer gentleman residing north of town and the owner of a fine farm recently sold a valuable Mexican gold mine to an English company. As the gentleman mentioned is rather advanced in years the deal was a fortunate one for him.

Henry Martens of this place, a noted marksman and a good all-around sportsman, recently went into the wilds of Mendocino county after bear and other big game. After a weeks' hunt in that region he returned home without a sign of hoof, horn, claw or scalp. We intended to keep mum, and our lips were tightly sealed and our pen was carefully stowed away. The climax was, however, capped last Sunday when the same individual took a run to the Sonoma marshes and returned with three mud-hens and a spoon-bill. Our feelings were so overcome that we felt it a duty to the general public to give this item publicity and to remain silent no longer.

STEIGER WINS.

Justice Cheney Sustained by the Superior Court.

Judge Crawford on Monday last rendered his decision in the civil suit of Lachman vs. Steiger in favor of the latter, The suit was brought in Justice Cheney's Court in this place to recover $299 damages alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff while she was asserting her rights as a "new woman" in resisting the payment of rent due Steiger. She claimed damages to the above amount. Judge Cheney gave judgment for Steiger and plaintiff appealed to the Superior Court with the above result.

Druid Banquet.

A number of the Grand Officers paid a fraternal visit to Sonoma Grove, No. 75, U. A. O. D., on Friday night of last week. Among those present were Past Grand Noble Arch Gerkens of Petaluma, Grand Noble Arch Hoag of Santa Rosa and Grand Secretary Mollison of San Francisco. The distinguished visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the third degree work of Sonoma Grove, as conducted by Noble Arch Oliveria, N. Nessi, Vice Grand, P. Sonognini, Conductor, and the other members of the order participating. Grand Noble Arch Hoag remarked at the conclusion of the work, which was conducted in the Italian language, that it could not have been improved upon. After the business of the Grove had been transacted speeches were made by the Grand Officers and several visiting members. Noble Grand Arch Hoag paid an eloquent tribute to the order and made one of the finest lodge addresses ever delivered inside a Druid Hall. At eleven o'clock the members escorted the Grand Officers to the Sonoma House where they were sumptuously banqueted. About forty-five Druids were present and amid feasting and speech making, Secretary A. G. Bulotti acting as toastmaster, the merry hours were wiled away until 3 o'clock in the morning.

Thanksgiving Eve Ball.

The ball to be given in Union Hall in this place next Wednesday evening (Thanksgiving eve) will be largely attended. The committee of the Young Mens' Institute having the affair in hand have disposed of a large number of tickets not only in this valley but elsewhere. Quite a number of party-goers from San Francisco, Santa Rosa and Petaluma will also be present. Great pains will be taken by the floor committee to see that all who attend will have an enjoyable time, which they most assuredly will. Music will be furnished by Parks' orchestra of Santa Rosa.

Had a Finger Cut Off.

James Weyl, the seven-year-old son of Henry Weyl, Sr., while playing around an old threshing machine, on Sunday last, had his index finger of his left hand cut clean off by getting it caught in the machinery. The finger dropped to the ground and was subsequently picked up and buried. The accident was so sudden that the little fellow did not know that he had lost his finger until he saw it lying on the ground. Dr. Davis dressed the wound.

Bold Thieves.

On Sunday night last thieves made a raid on the building material being used in the construction of Carl Dresel's new house, one mile east of town. A quantity of lumber, window sashes and other material were taken. A wagon was used by the thieves for hauling the swag away. A warrant is out for the arrest of the parties, who are at present known as John Doe and Richard Roe.

Not a Fortune.

No, $100 is not a fortune, but it is surprising how many things it will buy when judiciously invested. You may have wanted something for a long while. Will $100 get it for you? S.I. Bell Company, Publishers, No. 2018 Columbia avenue, Philadelphia, can show you how to make this amount in a month, if you have a few hours to spare each day. See their advertisement on another page. Write at once, for this is the harvest time of the year.

THE NORDIN SUIT.

Attorney Maxwell's Amended Complaint.

On Monday last the celebrated Nordin civil suit, over the possession of the Agua Caliente Springs Resort, was again enlivened in the Superior Court of this county by the filing of an amended complaint by Geo. H. Maxwell, attorney for Mrs. Nordin. The document, which, cannot be accepted as gospel truth without many grains of allowance, as it was filed in legal parlance on "information and belief," which in aboriginee means "mebby so; mebby not." Mrs. Nordin, through her attorney, after first avering that she delivered a deed simply for the real estate without conveying any of her personal property, complains as follows: "On her information and belief, sometime in the month of October, 1882, the defendant, John A. Nordin, was known by the name of John A. Nelson, which had been his name from childhood and continued so to be known until the 4th day of April, 1892; and in the said month of October, 1892, said defendent, J. A. Nordin, under the name of J. A. Nelsen married one Sophie, whose surname is unknown to the plaintiff, in the republic of Switzerland, and ever afterwards continued to be her husband, and as plaintiff was informed and believes, the said defendant is still the husband of the said Sophie."

The complaint further avers that John A. Nelsen filed a petition in the Superior Court in San Francisco to have his name changed to that of John A. Nordin, the decree being granted April 4th, 1893.

The plaintiff also avers: "On her information and belief the defendant was never divorced from, but is still the husband of, the woman Sophie," and "wherefore the plaintiff prays for judgment as she did in the original complaint."

New Advertisers.

The attention of our readers is called to the new advertisements which appear in these columns this week.

G. H. Hotz, dealer in millinery, dry goods, etc., reserves a large space for making his holiday announcement which will appear next week.

F. Clewe, dealer in general merchandise, announces that he is selling goods at bed-rock prices.

Campanelli & Oliveri, the Italian grocers and dealers in general merchandise, inform the public that among other things they are selling the very choicest of olives and olive oil from Lucca, Genoa and other places in Italy. Also finest of Swiss cheese, macaroni, etc.

Billy Kerner, the new and popular proprietor of the Sportsmens' Headquarters, is also up to date in so far as the appointments of his saloon is concerned and announces that his sample rooms will be supplied with the very best stock of wines, liquors and cigars.

Next week we will review all the ads in these columns and tell the general public something about the up to-date business men of Sonoma who believe in the value of printers' ink as reflected in these columns.

A Bold Robbery at Freestone.

The store of Ira T. Ward, general merchant at Freestone, in this county, was entered and robbed Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock by two masked men. Both robbers were armed with shot-guns and had six shooters. No one was in the store at the time but Mr. Ward and he was completely taken by surprise. Before he had time to do anything or call for help, he was made to give up the contents of the money drawer and safe, while the guns were leveled on him. As soon as the two robbers secured the booty they decamped. It is not known whether Mr. Ward was bound and gagged as currently reported, but it is known that the robbers had a short start before the alarm was given. Sheriff Allen sent over a deputy and notified officers at all near-by points to be on the lookout for the perpetrators of this bold outrage.

Sonoma's Wealth.

The wealth of Sonoma county, according to assessed value of property, amounts to $850 for every man, woman and child in the county. Sonoma is rightfully classed as one of the rich counties of California.

The daughters of Robert G. Ingersoll are among the most attractive young women in Gotham. They were brought up in the knowledge that under no circumstances would they receive punishment for misdeeds. They might be reasoned with, but no harsh words to them would pass their parents' lips. So great is the love of the Ingersoll daughters for their parents that they will never leave their home. SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, NOV. 23, 1895.

SACRED RUNNING OXEN.

They Are the Greatest Curiosities Among Ceylon's Domesticated Animals.

One of the greatest curiosities among the domesticated animals of Ceylon is a breed of cattle known to the zoologists as the "sacred running oxen." They are the dwarfs of the whole ox family, the largest specimens of the species never exceeding 80 inches, or 2½ feet in height. One sent to the Marquis of Canterbury in the year 1891, and which is still living and believed to be somewhere near 10 years of age, is only 22 inches high and weights but 109½ pounds. In Ceylon they are used for making quick trips across the country with express matter and other light loads, and it is said that four of them can pull a driver of a two wheeled cart and a 200 pound load of miscellaneous matter 60 to 70 miles a day. They keep up a constant swinging trot or run and have been known to travel 100 miles in a day and night without either feed or water. No one knows anything concerning the origin of this peculiar breed of miniature cattle. They have been known on the island of Ceylon and in other Buddhistic countries for more than a thousand years. One story told to account for their origin is to the effect that they were originally cattle of the ordinary height and bulk; that a Buddhistic priest was once imprisoned in a stone building, one-half of which was used for a cattle stable. During the night he managed to dislodge one of the stones in his prison wall. The stone in question was exactly 2½ feet square.

It was almost daylight when this apostle of Buddha felt the air rush through the opening he had made and realized that he was all but free. He knew that he would be unable to get out of the enemy's country on foot, so he prayed that he might be provided with a beast of burden that would safely carry him to the homes of the followers of Buddha. No sooner had he done this than one of the large oxen which had been quietly feeding in a stall at his side walked leisurely to the 30 inch square opening and miraculously passed through it.

The priest followed and mounted the now sacredly dwarfed beast and was soon safe in his own country. Since that time, so the story goes, there has been a breed of "sacred running oxen" in Ceylon, which never grow too tall to pass through an opening the size of that made in the prison wall by Buddha's representative on the night when he miraculously escaped on the back of the first of the famous dwarfed oxen.—St. Louis Republic.

Recollections of Bismarck's Wartime.

In the columns of The Kreuzzeitung Herr Andrae, a well known Conservative politician and friend of Prince Bismarck, gives some interesting recollections of the period of the war of 1870. He says: "Bismarck read on the 9th of July the speech delivered by the Duke of Grammont on the 6th. He was at dinner and handed the newspaper to his wife, with the words: 'The Duke of Grammont must have soon got tired of his office. I shall, of course, have to ask for his resignation.' Later in the evening, while walking in the park at Varzin and thinking of the matter, the idea suddenly came to him, 'Napoleon wants war, and Grammont's speech was dictated by him.'

"He went to his room, his first thought being to telegraph to the king, at Ems, as follows, 'It would be best to mobilize at once, declare war and attack before France is prepared.' His nerves were strung to the highest tension, and he passed a sleepless night. Lying awake, thinking, there crossed his mind the text, 'Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God.' 'So that won't do,' he said to himself. Then all the political consequences of his contemplated action became clear to him, and he ended by casting the first message aside and telegraphing to King William simply not to pledge himself to anything with Benedetti, who, if he became pressing, was to be told, 'My minister of foreign affairs is at Varzin.'"—London Mail.

KIDNEY.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from kidney trouble for two or three years. I would have to get up in the night to void my urine from ten to fifteen times. My sleep was disturbed and I became very thin and nervous. No appetite; bowels constipated. I have taken two bottles and gained fifteen pounds. Sleep well. Have to get up about three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe it will entirely cure me.

A Triumph of Elementary Education.

The following little incident happened in a London suburb: A bootmaker's apprentice, a lad of about 14, delivered a pair of boots at a tradesman's house. The tradesman's wife, accustomed to orderly business ways, asked the lad, after handing him the money for the boots, to receipt the bill. At this request the lad showed the greatest confusion, so that the woman, to reassure him, said, "Just receipt it, as a matter of business." Whereupon he wrote laboriously something on the paper. In the evening, when the tradesman examined the papers on the spike, he came upon a bootmaker's bill, at the foot of which was written in large letters in a schoolboy hand, "As a matter of business." It was the youthful apprentice's literal interpretation of the demand for a receipt as a matter of business.—Westminster Review.

How Tennyson Asked For an Apple.

Mr. Sherrard adds that his father used to tell him that when he was a boy he once met Tennyson at a dinner party, and that he was very frightened at his appearance. "Tennyson was at that time very sallow—almost yellow—and had long black hair. At dessert the poet bent across the table and addressed my father, in front of whom was placed a dish of fruit, and said, 'Evolve me an apple.' 'I did not know what he wanted me to do,' said my father."—Westminster Gazette.

"I'm going now. Yes, I'm going, going," murmured Steigher.

"What an excellent auctioneer you'd make," said the heartless but tired Miss Nycegirl.—Boston Courier.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhœa Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by all dealers.
